

Eye-Spy, Caddisfly!

Caddisfly larva protect themselves by building cases to hide from anything that might want to eat them. Often it is made out of plant material, sand or small stones and helps them blend into their surroundings. This can make them difficult to spot!

How many caddisfly larvae can you see?

